

SOLDIERS' BUILDING AT STATE HOSPITAL FORMALLY DEDICATED

Thousands Present to Witness Exercises—Stirring Addresses Made by Legion Officials—Mayor Crabtree Extends Words of Welcome—Judge Jenkins Also a Speaker

An audience of five to ten thousand people assembled at the State Hospital grounds yesterday afternoon to witness the dedication program for the new soldiers building. The structure was opened for inspection during most of the day and thousands of visitors admired the future home of the disabled ex-service men.

The program opened with a number of selections by the mass bands, which were led by J. Bart Johnson as general director. Later the Forty and Eight band from Bloomington furnished music for the official program.

Commander Kahl of the local post presided during the exercises and introduced the speakers. The invocation was pronounced by Rev. W. H. Marbach, pastor of State Street Presbyterian church, after which Mayor E. E. Crabtree made the welcome address.

He characterized Jacksonville as a city which has been interested in helping humanity, and stated that no more appropriate place for the new building could be found than this city. He gave a brief resume of the founding of the various colleges and state institutions in Jacksonville, showing how they had been established from charitable motives and through the sacrifices of citizens. The mayor welcomed the Spanish War veterans and members of the American Legion, stating that the city was proud to have them in its midst.

Commander Kahl next introduced Judge C. H. Jenkins, director of the state department of public welfare at Springfield who brought a message from Governor Small to the effect that the pressing business due to the closing sessions of the legislature prevented his presence at the ceremonies.

Judge Jenkins praised the work of the ex-service men and cautioned the citizens that they should not forget the deeds of the boys in foreign lands. He recited Kipling's "Recessional," giving emphasis to the thought that we are too prone to forget and that such occasions as this help to keep alive the memories of the great sacrifices made by the members of the Legion and their comrades in behalf of the country.

McCauley Tells of Legion Work
William R. McCauley, past commander of the American Legion Department of Illinois, was the next speaker. He told the impressive story of the legion's efforts to aid the disabled veterans in December 1920, the state department began a search for the men who had been unfortunate during the war. These men were found in contract hospitals, poorhouses, county jails and other institutions, many of them living under most unfavorable conditions. Men who were restored to health were placed in wards with civilian patients who would at times become violent.

Mr. McCauley, who was then state commander, took the result of the investigations before Governor Small and Judge Jenkins. After he had told his story the Governor turned to Judge Jenkins and told him to write the bill that would provide suitable quarters for the afflicted and disabled veterans. The dedication yesterday was the climax of that incident.

Mr. McCauley paid his respects to the Veterans Bureau scoring what he termed it "damnable inefficiency and red tape." He said Congress had appropriated sufficient funds for the compensation of the boys, but the bureau was too inefficient to satisfy the just claims of the men.

Daddy Schick Talks
The final speaker on the program was Charles W. Schick, present commander of the Department of Illinois. He is better known to the boys as "Daddy" Schick. During the war he had charge of recruiting for the navy at the Great Lakes Naval Training station. He later organized the Chicago Naval Post, the largest in the state, and was finally elected department commander of the Legion.

Commander Schick praised the state officials for their work in providing the present facilities for care of the disabled veterans, stating that Illinois leads in such work. He told something of the future policy of the Legion, stating its three cardinal principles as God, Country and Honor. It is the plan of the Legion to educate every alien so that when he becomes a citizen he will be a better American. It is also planned to educate the American youth to ideals of patriotism. A law has already been passed making it compulsory to fly a flag over every school house every day during the school term. It is the purpose to have a Legion man in every school room every Wednesday to teach patriotism.

Not Responsible for Disappearance of Students He Says

CHICAGO, June 15.—Altho stating that class rushes were conducted in no way with the recent death of Louis Aubere and the disappearance of Leighton Mount, Northwestern University students President Walter Dill Scott said tonight he was convinced that class rushes of every form must be prohibited at Northwestern University.

Acts of recklessness should not escape condemnation, even tho he be called "college pranks," President Scott stated.

Abduction by force cannot be tolerated even tho the abduction be to keep prominent class members away from social functions or from class contests. University spirit and class loyalty should be encouraged, but they must be directed in channels consistent with University aims.

SEDAN CRUSHED BETWEEN STREET CARS

CHICAGO, June 15.—A sedan automobile was crushed between two passing street cars here tonight, killing one man and fatally injuring a woman and less seriously injuring a score of passengers on the two street cars.

Norman Suel, salesman and driver of the car is dead and his wife is in a hospital internally injured, severely cut and burned in numerous places from the fire which started when the gasoline tank of the automobile exploded and set fire to the car.

FORMER PREMIER STAMBOULISKY WAS KILLED YESTERDAY

Is Shot When Peasants Attempt his Rescue from Guards

(By The Associated Press)
SOFIA, June 15.—Alexander Stamboulisky, premier of Bulgaria from the time the peasant government was formed under his leadership in 1918 until he was overthrown last week by the Bulgarian army, was killed this morning in the village of Vetren, near his native town of Slavovitz. He was shot in the course of an attempt by a party of peasants to rescue him from guards who had captured him yesterday after a three day pursuit.

Stamboulisky was brought from the village of Golak, where he was captured. He announced he had important documents at his Slavovitz home and was permitted to set out of Slavovitz in an automobile surrounded by guards. On the outskirts of the village a party of peasants blocked the road.

Under the fire of the peasants the guards abandoned Stamboulisky and the peasants proceeded to escort him toward the village. Enroute a band of soldiers attacked the peasants with rifle fire. It was during the short stiff fighting which followed that Stamboulisky was shot—virtually on the threshold of his birthplace.

Stamboulisky as a captive, was expected to be brought to Sofia by the noon train today. When the train arrived at the station the streets around Alexander square were choked with citizens eager to get a glimpse of him. Shortly afterward they learned of his fate.

Peasant Made Arrest
It was a peasant who arrested the former premier at Golak. Stamboulisky went to a tile-making establishment and ordered a large amount of tile, paying 300 leva to bind the bargain. Recognizing him in spite of his disguise the merchant suspected the purpose of the transaction was to develop friendly contact so that he could communicate with the mayor of Slavovitz, thereby getting into touch with his adherents. The merchant summoned assistance and told Stamboulisky he was under detention. Stamboulisky then decided to place himself in the hands of the new authorities and wrote a letter to the chief of police at Vetren offering to surrender. The officer arrived several hours later with a detachment of soldiers.

After starting to Sofia the former premier asked to be permitted to drive to Slavovitz and it was the granting of this request that led to his death.

The Sofia newspapers continue to publish various versions of alleged irregularities and scandals of the peasant premier's regime. The government has issued a warning against the printing of unfounded reports.

Trains are now running to all points in Bulgaria and private messages are permitted over the government wires.

FOREIGN SECRETARY CURZON WILL SIGN TREATY WITH TURKS

British Expect That It Will Be Negotiated Soon

(By The Associated Press)
LUSANNE, June 15.—Foreign Secretary Curzon, Great Britain, is expected to come to Lausanne to sign the peace treaty with the Turks, which despite the continued complications over Ottoman debt, the delegates persistently believe will be negotiated.

England is taking the lead in opposing any adjournment of the conference. The French are no less eager for a definite settlement of the Near East problem but feel that they cannot yield to the Turkish demands in regard to the interest payments on the Ottoman debt involving the loss of 500,000 francs a day to French bondholders.

M. Venizelos has assured the allies that Greece has no intention of abandoning the conference. His recent suggestion for the signing of peace preliminaries between Greece and Turkey, he said was actuated by Greece's desire to demobilize her expensive army and concentrate her efforts on international reconstruction.

CLAIM LIQUOR WAS THROWN FROM U. S. SHIP

New York, June 15.—When the steamship George Washington arrived today from Europe an officer stated that 72 cases of liquor had been thrown overboard just outside the three mile limit in accordance with the treasury department ruling prohibiting the bringing of liquor into American ports. Officials of the United States line made a vigorous denial stating that none of their ships carried liquor except as required by law for medicinal purposes.

Illinois C. of C. Plans Legislative Method

(By The Associated Press)
ROCKFORD, Ill., June 15.—Director of the Illinois Chamber of Commerce meeting here tonight determined upon a new method of pushing future legislative programs of the organization. Pre-election activity will supplant to a large degree legislative lobbying if the scheme is successful.

Under the plan it is proposed to determine the legislative program of the state association by referendum of member organizations sufficiently in advance of election so that candidates can be asked to declare themselves on the issues proposed and voters educated to support candidates whose views on these issues are satisfactory.

In general the program will call for support of legislation favorable to law and order investigation of all measures making for increased taxation or for change in taxation methods, and a stand either for or against all laws affecting business.

The meeting voted to commend Attorney General Brundage for his prosecution of the Herrin cases. It was also voted to take out membership in the international association of commerce. A resolution passed calling on the United States government to provide better quarters and remuneration for diplomatic representatives abroad. Opposition to the $100,000,000 road bond issue was expressed but no campaign against it planned.

Directors and officers of the chamber were guests of John H. Camlin, president of the Rockford country club tonight where the business meeting was held.

FORTY AND EIGHT BAND PROVES POPULAR

The Forty and Eight band from Bloomington, which led the American Legion section in the parade yesterday, made itself popular with the boys and with the entire jubilee crowd. After playing for the program, which concluded their official engagement here, they gave a concert at the hospital grounds, came up town and played at one of the hotels, then went to the Elks club and gave several selections, after which they marched to the School for the Deaf, where they gave another concert. They left this morning on the Hummer for Bloomington.

OTHER STAR AVIATOR MARRIED YESTERDAY

Washington, June 15.—Lieutenant Oakley G. Kelly, who with Lieutenant John A. McReady recently made a non-stop coast to coast flight by airplane was married tonight to Miss Mary Watson of San Diego, Calif. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. John C. Palmer at his residence in the presence of several friends of the bride couple who had known each other for about ten years.

FARMERS WARNED THAT PRODUCTION MUST BE ADJUSTED

Must Be in Keeping with Demand to Prevent Low Prices

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, June 15.—Warning to American farmers that unless production is fairly well adjusted to demand, prices will be disappointing and that low prices of the last three years have not been due to a reduction of agricultural exports was given today by Secretary Wallace of the department of agriculture. "A great many people seem to have had the notion that the low prices to farm products during the last three years have been due to a reduction of our exports," said Mr. Wallace. "Under this misconception they have urged the adoption of various political and economic devices which they thought might increase agricultural exports. The fact of the matter is that our exports of farm products during the last three years have been far greater than before the war and greater even than during the war years."

"Our eight principal food crops, corn, wheat, oats, barley, rye, buckwheat, rice and potatoes, the average annual exports for the years 1915 to 1922 were 142 percent greater than the average annual years of those same crops for the years 1905-1914 inclusive. The total volume of exports of those crops, measured in bushels was even greater by 18 percent during the post-war years and 1920 to 1922 inclusive than during what we may call the war years 1914-1915 inclusive. In the case of animals food products our average annual exports during the pre-war years 1905 to 1914 inclusive amounted to 921,000 tons. During the war years 1915 to 1919 inclusive our exports more than doubled, being an average of 2,032,000 tons. During the post-war years 1920 to 1922 inclusive our exports amounted to 1,401,000 tons and increase of 52 percent over the pre-war period."

"In considering the matter of future exports of our agricultural products it must be remembered that the probable tendency will be downward. European agriculture is becoming more productive and no doubt economic conditions are becoming more stable."

WORKED FOR FIRM THAT SOLD PHONOGRAPHS TO BOARD

(By The Associated Press)
CHICAGO, June 15.—A writ of attachment for the appearance in court of H. J. Brinkman, a former bookkeeper of the Hlawatha Phonograph company, the sale of phonographs and their costs all figured in the trial today of Fred Lundin and 20 co-defendants charged with graft in connection with school board funds. Brinkman was served with a subpoena to appear in court as a witness for the state when the trial started several weeks ago. Today, when he failed to put in his appearance, Judge McDonald issued the attachment writ. When a state investigator went to his home he was informed that Brinkman had departed two weeks ago.

William H. Wade of the Wade-Twitchell Music company called by the state testified relatives to a conversation between him and Edwin S. Davis, former president of the school board. He asserted that he had talked to Davis regarding the phonograph contracts, but that Davis had said that there was not much chance as they had to take care of their friend, Pat Moihan.

Wade admitted that he had suggested to Davis that the contract be divided between him and Moihan and that he had seen Mayor Thompson in an effort to persuade him to bring political pressure to bear against Davis.

MYNA PIOCH TAKES STAND IN HER OWN DEFENSE YESTERDAY

Testifies That McGinnis Choked Her and Then His Wife

(By The Associated Press)
CHICAGO, June 15.—Michael McGinnis, city fireman, for whose murder his wife, Anna and her sister, Myna Pioch, are on trial, was shot while he choked his wife and her sister, the latter testified today in her recital of the shooting.

The state in its case which was completed early today charged that the two sisters killed McGinnis because he learned of an alleged affair with two youths, Francis Nee and Charles Schade who are being charged as accessories before the fact that the woman precipitated the fight which ended in McGinnis' death.

Miss Pioch, taking the stand this afternoon testified that McGinnis came home in a drunken condition and after choking her turned on his wife. Both women fired shots, she testified, but she afterward learned that one of the shots she fired entered McGinnis' forehead.

Her testimony was given with out the slightest indication of emotion and she hesitated only when asked to tell of the language used by McGinnis during the quarrel. Mrs. McGinnis sat through the recital of the shooting, looking at the floor in front of her and without indicating that she heard a word of her sister's testimony.

Two youths who smiled frequently during the previous days of the trial remained motionless yet serious faces today.

INCREASE OF $320,487 MADE IN OMNIBUS BILL BY SENATE COMMITTEE

This Means a Net Reduction on the Measure of Over $1,000,000—Gives Assistance to Health Department and Commerce Commission—Much Oratory in Evidence

(By The Associated Press)
SPRINGFIELD, Ill., June 15.—Thru work of the conference committee a total net increase of $320,487 was made in the omnibus appropriation bill as it passed the house, the committee chairman, Senator Wright announced late tonight.

This means that a net reduction in the bill of $1,055,000 was made in the bill as it came from the house. With the house slashes, the total amounted to about $1,500,000.

Most of the items in dispute between the senate and house were settled by compromise, Senator Wright said. The matter of district health superintendents for whom the house allowed $20,000 yearly against the original sum of $100,000 annually and the senate $40,000 was agreed upon by making the item $30,000.

As for the assistant commerce commissioners, the senate figure of three stood, against none allowed by the house and seven in the bill's original form. The senate took out all six private secretaries for the commission, and the conference committee put back three.

The two divisions of the department of labor—research and immigrants—appropriations for which were entirely deleted by the senate, remained penniless.

The hard-hit division of fire prevention was fixed up by the committee, restoring everything taken out by the senate except for these:

Twenty inspectors were allowed, against the original 25 and the 15 authorized by the senate; the cut from 15 to 10 investigators was allowed to stand; the item of office expenses was put at $20,000, a compromise between $25,000 and $15,000.

Senator Wright's anti-daylight saving bill was permanently shelved tonight by action of the house in defeating 57 to 51, a motion by Representative Frank McCarthy, Republican, Elgin, to non-concur in the judiciary committee's unfavorable report.

Chicago now may continue to practice daylight saving without interference by downstate. The bill extending the life of the Herrin investigating committee was passed in the house 85 to 7 and now goes to the senate. If it is enacted, the committee members probably will not make any report until next efforts to get Williamson county persons who are evading subpoenas.

Shutting down the lid on increases in salary for heads of state departments and bureaus, the senate tonight spent more than two hours in biennial appropriations for these officials and the general increases.

Among increases denied were Director of Agriculture, from $6,000 to $7,000; director of labor, from $5,000 to $6,000; director of mines and minerals, from $5,000 to $7,000; superintendent of highways from $5,000 to $6,000.

Senator Swift, Republican Libertyville failed in an attempt to abolish two commerce commissioners by eliminating the funds for their salaries but his amendment aroused much oratory and sensational charges.

CANADIAN OFFICIALS UNABLE TO ASSIST

WINDSOR, Ont., June 15.—Canadian officials today informed E. C. Yellowley, chief of American prohibition enforcement agents at a brief conference that they could give little assistance to the United States in checking the flow of liquor into Michigan, because shipping of liquor was legal under dominion and provincial laws.

Attending the conference were "Izzy" Elmskin and "Moe" Smith, versatile New York agents, who traveled incognito across the border and were introduced to Canadian officials under aliases. Their identity, however, soon was discovered.

JURY DECIDES IN FAVOR OF WIDOW CROKER WILL CASE

All Points Contested by Children Decided in Her Favor

(By The Associated Press)
DUBLIN, June 15.—The prolonged trial of the Croker will contest case came to an end today with a verdict in favor of Mrs. Richard Croker on all the points contested by the children of her late husband.

The announcement of the jury revoked a noisy demonstration in the court room there being cheering and handclapping on the part of auditors which brought censure from the presiding judge. The sympathy of the populace for Mrs. Croker again was evidenced by loud cheering as she left the courtroom.

Today's verdict in no way implies any endorsement of the charges made by Richard Croker, against Richard Croker, Jr. There was not an issue in the case and the widow of Mr. Croker on the witness stand said she knew nothing of them beyond the fact that her husband had made them. The questions at issue were left to the jury that every charge against the widow, including the allegations regarding her marriage to Guy Marone were cleaned up and decided.

CREDIT MEN PASS RESOLUTIONS

(By The Associated Press)
ATLANTA, Ga., June 15.—The National Association of Credit-men went on record as opposed to any tendency to abrogate or weaken respect for the existing prohibition and other laws and as favoring the United States entering the international court of justice in resolutions adopted at the closing session of their annual convention here late today.

Other resolutions adopted declared in favor of determining what reparations Germany should pay and then making Germany pay up, favored the use of the uniform bill of lading condemning blanket mortgages, recommended the appointment of a committee to study the question of taxation, declared for uniformity of statements to the federal reserve banks and recommended support of the federal reserve systems by local associations.

DOUBT ACCURACY OF OFFICER'S STATEMENT
(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, June 15.—Shipping board officials doubt the accuracy of a statement made by an officer on the Steamship George Washington to 87 cases of liquor were thrown overboard as the liner reached the three mile limit today on a trip across the Atlantic to New York. The George Washington, is said at the board headquarters like other shipping board ships is dry under the order issued by President Harding after Attorney General Daugherty's ruling of some months ago that the eighteenth amendment and the Volstead act apply to American ships even on the high seas. The George Washington is under operation by the United States Line, but this company, it is explained, is merely an operating company formed under the shipping board and consequently the ships it operates do not have the right of serving liquor.

POPLAR TREES AS DOWRY
Planted at Child's Birth, They Provide a "Dot" Demanded on Her Marriage.

In the southernmost part of Italy is the province of Calabria. One of the most charming of the customs here in Italy's toe is that relating to a girl's dowry. For, as in most European countries, a Calabrian girl has a slim chance of marriage unless she is the proud possessor of a "dot."
The Calabrians, to avoid such a tragedy as that of bringing up a daughter and not being able to endow her with a sufficient dowry to attract an eligible husband, make provision in her childhood against such a misfortune. In some parts of Calabria, when a little girl is born, her father plants a row of poplar trees, which are hers. By the time she is seventeen years old the poplars are fine, large trees and ready to be hewn down. Then their wood is sold and the money is set aside for the daughter's dowry.
Calabria also is one of the sea ports. Across the straits of Messina is Sicily. It was here that the mythological monsters, Scylla and Charybdis, were supposed to menace mariners. Even the brave Ulysses was in never-ending fear of Scylla. It has always been filled with romance, and from this mountainous country come thrilling tales of highwaymen and brigands, for it was a favorite haunt for outlaws.

PLUTARCH'S RULE OF DIET
Philosopher Seems to Have Had the Right Idea Concerning the Satisfying of Appetite.

He that is hungry should eat necessary food and find it pleasant; but when he is freed from his common appetite, he ought not to raise up a fresh one. For as dancing was no unpleasant exercise to Socrates himself, so he that can make his meal of sweetmeats or a second course receives the less damage. But he that has taken already what may sufficiently satisfy his nature ought by all means avoid them. And concerning these things, Indecorum and ambition are no less to be avoided than the love of pleasure and gluttony.
Therefore, when any rare or noble dish is before you, you will get more honor by refraining from it than partaking of it. Remember what Simondes said, that he never repented that he had held his tongue; so we shall not repent that we have refused a good dish or drank water instead of Falernian but the contrary. We are not only to commit no violence on nature; but when any of those things are offered to her, even if she has a desire for them, we ought sometimes to direct the appetite to a more innocent and accustomed diet that she may be used to it and acquainted with it.—Plutarch.

The Point That Counted.
Pat was a good husband and a good father and had taken care of his family—at times. He was well liked in his neighborhood, but occasionally he would go on a spree while his family got along as best they could.

When he died suddenly the neighbors were shocked and a kindly woman, chatting over the fence with Pat's wife, proceeded to comfort her by describing Pat's good points.

"He was such a man of principle," said the neighbor.
"And am I not the one to know it?" replied the bereaved woman.
"Sure, and every Saturday night didn't he come home and place his pay envelope in front of me as regular as clockwork? Not a night did he miss all the time we were married. Of course, the pay envelope was always empty, but look at the principle of the thing!"—Chicago Daily News.

Words Wrongly Used.
The following are some words that are often wrongly used: "decided," for instance means "strong"; "decisive" means "final"; a decided opinion is quite different from a decisive opinion. "Each other" should never be used for "one another"; "guess" is loosely used for "suppose," "expect" or "intend," but such use is avoided by the best writers; "person" should never be used for "person"; "further" means "additional," "farther" refers to distance; "propose," meaning to offer, should not be confused with "purpose," meaning "to intend"; "discover" is to find something which previously existed; "invent" is to produce something for the first time; "locate" is a vulgarism, when used for "settle"; "perception" means the inlet of all the materials of knowledge; "apperception" means the knowledge that one possesses these materials; a man with perception knows, a man with apperception knows that he knows.

Fired.
The head of a large shop, while passing through the packing-room, observed a boy lounging against a case of goods and whistling cheerily. The chief stopped and looked at him. "How much do you get a week?" he demanded. "Five dollars," came the brief retort. "Then here's a week's money, now clear out." The boy pocketed the money and departed. "How long has he been in our employ?" the chief inquired of the departmental manager. "Never, so far as I can remember," was the unexpected reply. "He has just brought me a note from another firm."—Chicago News.

His Experience.
"Have you ever been robbed?"
"Well, I've stopped at hotels and bought theater tickets in New York and had my car overhauled, but I've never actually had a highwayman put a gun to my head, if that's what you mean."

The origin of a case of scarlet fever has been traced to a book which was read by a scarlet-fever patient 20 years ago.

Gingham Morning Dresses Are Pushed to Front by Fashion
By JULIA BOTTOMLEY

Gingham and its sister fabrics, chambray and percale, are always sure of representation in the summer modes, and occasionally comes a season which shows gingham far ahead of its rival wash-fabrics in popular favor. Just now fashion points persistently to gingham for morning frocks, apron frocks and house dresses. In the displays, other cottons and some linens bear them company but must be satisfied to hold second place—being greatly outnumbered by gingham.
Nearly always some other cotton in a plain weave, as pique or chambray, is used in conjunction with gingham, the plain material providing collar, cuffs, pockets or trimming, or it is combined with gingham in the body of the frock. This rule holds good in dresses for grown-ups and juniors alike and gingham begins its usefulness with the youngest members of the family and ends it with the oldest. In utility and house dresses for grown-ups and in play dresses for children, plain materials are usually confined to accessories as in the pretty frock pictured. Here the collar, cuffs and pockets are made of white pique outlined with chain stitching and decorated with simple needlework. Often for morning or porch dresses a checked gingham skirt and a plain chambray bodice are joined with bands of chambray adorning the skirt and bands of gingham doing like service for the bodice, some times aided by a vestee or collar band. There are, numberless ways in which gingham is cleverly combined with other cottons, to make becoming frocks that will prove a joy to summer time. The perennial freshness of tub frocks endears them to women.
There is a cheerful tendency to bright and pleasing colors, especially for house dresses and style is an important factor in their success. But designers see to it that they are simple enough to launder well and that they may be easily put on and off.

GOLD MEDALS WERE PRESENTED FRIDAY BY THE PRESIDENT

Awarded Recently by Roosevelt Memorial Association

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, June 15.—President Harding presented the three gold medals recently awarded by the Roosevelt Memorial Association today with the declaration that "everything which is done to preserve the memory and ideals and example of Theodore Roosevelt is a contribution to the patriotic spirit and the confidence of the United States of America."

The presentation ceremonies were held in the east room of the white house, twenty five years almost to the hour from the time Roosevelt with one of the three recipients of the medal, Major General Leonard Wood, retired, sailed for Florida port with his famous regiment of Rough Riders for Cuba. General Wood who was awarded a medal for distinguished service in the promotion of the national defense could not be present because of duties as governor general of the Philippines, and Colonel Charles L. Kilburn, who served on his staff for many years received it in his name.
The medal for distinguished service in the promotion of the study of natural history was bestowed by the president for the memorial association on Dr. Henry Fairchild Osborn, president of the American Museum of Natural History who the president declared had the "very rare distinction to have so pursued one's activities as to earn the devoted and trusted friendship of Theodore Roosevelt."

The third medal went to Mrs. Elizabeth Ward a granddaughter of Alexander Hamilton, organizer of the sanitary commission which was the Red Cross of the Civil War, and a pioneer in advocating public care of the poor.

The Legion is the one true organization in America, standing for no creed, party, race, color or faction, but for the good of the whole American people. It was afternoon that already 170 ex-service men have been paroled from the Elgin home, which was dedicated last year. One hundred and forty of these have been entirely restored and have taken their place in the life of their respective communities.

The program closed with a few selections by the Forty and Eight band. The scene on the hospital grounds as the mammoth parade disbanded was a brilliant spectacle. Hundreds of Legion Veterans in uniform mingled with band men, members of drum corps, the brilliantly clad members of the D. O. K. K. drill team and the thousands of civilians who had gathered for the program.

During the exercises Commander Kahl read telegrams from Major General Foreman and former national commander Benford McNeider, stating that they could not be present and wishing the enterprises the best of success. Both men had been invited to participate in the ceremonies.

SWEDEN PLANS TO SPEND $12,600,000 FOR RAILROAD

Stockholm, (AP)—The first coast to coast railroad electrification in the world, extending from Stockholm, on the Baltic Sea, to Gothenburg, on the North Sea, is heralded in the official request just made to the Swedish government by the State Railway Administration that it be empowered to begin immediately the expenditure of the 23,000,000 crowns which have already been appropriated toward this project.
This is an important step in the great movement which has already resulted in the electrification of hundreds of leading industrial establishments, and at least 50 per cent of all the farming area in Sweden.
The trunk line from Stockholm to Gothenburg, which carries heavy traffic both of freight and passengers, is nearly 300 miles in length. The work of electrification can be carried through within two years, says the Railway Administration, and if it is begun immediately the total cost will be about 47,000,000 crowns or about $12,600,000.

GOVERNOR SMITH WILL NOT TALK TO REPORTERS

Secretary Says No Statement Until He Reaches Home

FRENCH LICK, Ind., June 15.—Governor Smith of New York spending his vacation here declined today to comment on a report from New York that the national committee of one hundred for law enforcement had taken action asking that he call a special session of the legislature to pass a prohibition enforcement measure to "put New York in line with other lawabiding states." George VanNamee, the governor's secretary said numerous requests of a similar nature had been received but none of them would be given consideration until the executive completes his vacation and returns to the capital.

Some things you should know about your heart

THE first thing a physician examines, when summoned, is the heart pulse. A normal heart will beat one hundred and three thousand times each day. You depend on it to beat every second of your life. You realize the heart should not have to overwork constantly to throw off blood impurities. It is impurities which increase the heart beat. More red-cells mean cleaner, purer, richer blood. They mean nerve-power, because all your nerves are fed by your blood. This means freedom from pimples, from blackheads, from boils, eczema and skin eruptions; from rheumatic impurities, from that tired, exhausted, run-down feeling. Red-cells are the most important thing in the world to each of us. S. S. S. will build them for you! S. S. S. has been known since 1826 as one of the greatest blood-builders, blood-cleansers and system strengtheners ever produced.

Mr. Arthur A. Smith, 5009 S. Ada Street, Chicago, Ill., writes: "After suffering with bad boils, I commenced using S.S.S. I wish to say that it came up to all expectations, and relieved me of boils. I wish to express my appreciation for what S.S.S. did for me."

Arthur Havers Wins British Open Title

Finishes Course by Margin of One Stroke Over Havers—Hagen Made Great Uphill Battle to Overcome Havers' Lead

TROON, June 15.—(By A. F.)—Arthur Gladstone Havers, a young English professional today won the British open championship of 1923 by a margin of one stroke over Walter Hagen, who came from the United States to defend the title he acquired one year ago at Sandwich.

Thru the sound and sturdy efforts of Havers, Great Britain has won back its own cup from the Americans who had held it for two successive years. Playing every round of the 72 holes with remarkable steadiness, Havers amassed a grand total of only 295 strokes, five less than Hagen made to win the trophy last year. Hagen ended his 72 hole battle today with 296 strokes, as well as second place, as an American, Macdonald Smith of San Francisco having a score of 297, including a 69 this morning that broke the record for the old Troon course. Joe Kirkwood, the Australian who now makes his home in the United States came in fourth with 298 strokes, he also getting a 69 during the day. Johnny Farrell of New York was in eighth position with a card of 306. George Aulbach the other American was down the line with a 329.

Between 10,000 and 15,000 spectators, many of them from lands over the seas, watched the last two rounds of the competition. Fully two-thirds of them kept their eyes on Hagen in the last hour of his gallant struggle to overtake Havers, who was leading him by two strokes when they went out after lunch for the last 18 holes.

Each took 38 to reach the turn at the ninth hole, the outward journey being made with a strong wind behind the ball and a clear sky overhead. Hagen missed a tiny 12 inch putt at the ninth, so he still was two strokes behind Havers, with only nine more holes to go.

Then he began his real battle, but he dropped even farther behind at the eleventh for he got that hole in par, while Havers slipped his ball into the cup for a birdie three.

By the time Hagen had reached the eleventh green, however, Havers had lapped his final putt into the home hole so that the champion knew exactly how hard a task lay ahead of him over seven holes and into the wind. A three at the fourteenth where Havers had taken a four helped Hagen take a 69, but it was at the sixteenth that the American made the first of two inspiring attempts to do the near impossible and almost succeeded.

His third shot at that hole dropped into the crowds standing on the rough grass covered ground guarding the green. Hagen made an effort to sink a chip shot of that mound. The ball went into the air, landed on the green and rolled straight for the cup, but the ball went straight over the cup and rested a few inches away.

A perfect par five, instead of a miraculous birdie four, was all Hagen could get out of it. Hagen now needed three at both the seventeenth, which is a short hole, and the eighteenth which is a par four, to tie Havers. His drive off the seventeenth landed drough several yards off the table-like green. He pitched perfectly and sank his first putt for the required three. His last hope was to get a birdie three on the eighteenth, an accomplishment Hagen had achieved only yesterday.

Hagen sent a terrific drive down the fairway, but his second shot, blown to the right by the wind, landed in a bunker. It seemed all over now.

For a long time the champion studied the green and then the bunker where the ball lay.

Finally he hit the ball. It rose over the high face of the bunker and fell upon the grass. It rolled in a direct line for the hole but all was over. Hagen had lost his title and Great Britain had recaptured the trophy.

Morgan County Farm Bureau News

Opposed to Class Prejudice—Dean H. W. Mumford at the opening of the recent farm advisers conference spoke briefly deprecating any movement that causes class prejudice. He emphasized the necessity of advisers working for good feeling and cooperation.

Pointers From Professor Macklin—Cooperative Marketing Idea Not New—Dr. Theodore Macklin, professor of agricultural economics in the University of Wisconsin, told the Illinois Farm Advisers that cooperative marketing is not a new idea and showed how creameries were started in the 80's. The business was overdone in Iowa. Cooperation means doing today what the successful experience of these organizations prove. Education is always a method of trying to profit by short cuts.

One great hindrance to progress in cooperative marketing is the great suspicion farmers have against each other and all middlemen. It took 30 years for the California Fruit Growers Association to get where it is. He said it ordinary takes 7 years to make a business a business.

Prof. Macklin advised farm bureaus to push the main lines of marketing and not the side lines. Any marketing organization must please the buyer of its products. He does not believe in organizations handling more than two products. Finally he quoted Horace Plunkett, saying: "The disease of democracy is putting politicians into work for which they are not fitted."

Farm Management Facts—H. C. M. Case of the Farm Management department of the College stated that the profits in farming might be increased thru decreasing the cost of production. A survey of fifteen farms in Champaign and adjacent counties showed that farmers on these farms worked from 1600 to 3600 hours per year. The records showed that farmers there rarely worked over 10 hours per day and some over 276 to 375 hours per year. Farm Management records are used to determine the mistakes in the management of the business.

Bacillary White Diarrhea of Chickens—Dr. Graham of the College of Agriculture is using a serum agglutination test that enables an expert to detect this disease in mature breeding stock. The department that has been eliminated that show the presence of this disease by blood tests. Flock owners are urged to avoid purchasing eggs from flock that have the disease, to destroy infected chicks by burning, and to disinfect incubators, brooders and houses.

GLACIER PARK, Mont., June 15.—(By A. P.)—While the promoters of the Fourth of July flight at Shelby were making frantic efforts at Great Falls today to raise the $100,000 installment due Jack Dempsey, Tommy Gibbons, the St. Paul challenger with his wife and two children spent the day here unaware of the financial situation confronting the promoters.

Gibbons jumped and tumbled with his children and enjoyed his one day vacation immensely. He started back to Shelby tonight and will arrive there in time to resume his training tomorrow.

Total sales (par value) $11-

NEW YORK, June 15.—Short covering operations brought about a sharp rally just before the close in today's stock market which had exhibited a reactionary tone throughout most of the session. Fifty stocks including nearly all the active oils established new low records for the year. There were no developments in the day's news to account for the selling pressure which was of professional origin and obviously inspired by the continued lack of public interest and the unwillingness of insiders to support their favorites.

Pan American issues made the best recovery in the oil group closing about 12 points above yesterday's final figures. Recent weakness of California Petroleum was attributed to liquidation resulting from the increased margin required on the new stock.
Erie railroad issues showed moderate strength on reports that first national bank interests were taking a more active part in the financial affairs of the road. Most of the other rails held steady.
U. S. government bonds held fairly steady in dull trading.

X-rays are being used to search bales of imported goods for smuggled articles.

DUN'S REPORT WILL SAY TODAY

NEW YORK, June 15.—Dun's tomorrow will say: "Most of the tests by which business conditions are measured shows a diminution of buying in primary channels but a gain in a retail distribution. These are seasonal phases and do not mark any unusual or unexpected change in the general situation. Close observation of conditions had not anticipated the noteworthy industrial expansion of the first quarter of this year would continue indefinitely or that the rise of prices would go on unchecked and the recent slowing down process with reaction in prices has not been surprising. The chief interests now centers in probable course of events after the passing of the summer and there is a disposition in many quarters to await a clearer insight into the future. This attitude is reflected by the increased conservatism in the placing of advance orders as well as by the policy of avoiding burdensome accumulations of merchandise."

COUNCIL SETTLES CITY DAMAGE SUIT

Case of George Lipsmire for Personal Injuries from Defective Side Walk Compromised

The Jacksonville city council in a special meeting authorized a settlement of the suit against the city, brought by George F. Lipsmire, for personal injury. Settlement was made on the basis of $3,000 and the city has an agreement with the Haas Electric Co. of Springfield, whereby the company is to pay one-half of this amount.

It will be remembered that about a year ago Mr. Lipsmire was seriously injured by a fall caused by a defective pavement in front of the Haas building on East State street. He has been in a hospital since that time and it is understood that he has never recovered fully from his injuries, one leg being badly shattered.

A damage suit was brought against the city for $35,000. In the settlement which has just been reached Mr. Lipsmire was represented by W. N. Haigrove, the city by City Attorney Bellatti and the Haas Co. by Alonzo Hoff of Springfield.

TWO THOUSAND VETS WERE FED YESTERDAY

Service Star Legion Serves Big Free Dinner to 2,000 Veterans at J. S. H. Yesterday.

Two thousand veterans of the country's wars were fed free yesterday on the grounds of Jacksonville State hospital. The affair was for the American Legion men who were in the city yesterday to attend the dedication of the new hospital for disabled soldiers. The serving was carried on by the ladies of the Service Star Legion, admirably assisted by a horde of pretty girls as waitresses. The whole managing of the serving was carried on by Mrs. Frances Brown, president of the Service Star Legion, who proved herself an able general.

The luncheon of beans, salad, pickles, sandwiches, cake, ice cream and coffee, was served at two big tables, each four hundred yards long.

THOUSANDS OF VETS MARCH THRU STREETS IN PATRIOTIC PARADE

Line of March Was Over Two Miles Long—Was Attendant On the Dedication of Soldiers Hospital—Several Noted Speakers Appeared on Program of the Afternoon

The long anticipated Jubilee Parade that went thrue the streets of this city yesterday afternoon was an unqualified success. About two miles in length and having at least 5,000 persons in line, it proved to be the greatest event of its kind ever staged in Jacksonville. Along the entire line of march from the Dunlap hotel to the State hospital grounds crowds watched the parade. It is estimated that at least 15,000 people viewed it.

The parade was led by Col. O. C. Smith grand marshal, his aides and Jacksonville community band. Other musical organizations in the line were: Vocational Training center band, Soldiers' and Sailors' Orphans Home band of Normal, Forty and Eight band of Bloomington, Chicago Ex-Service men's Field band of Bugles and drums, Roodhouse band, Waverly band, Jacksonville Colored band, Roodhouse drum corps, Boy Scout drum corps, DeSilva's Drum corps.

It was indeed an inspiring patriotic spectacle as the great great pageant moved along the streets which had been so artistically and patriotically decorated not only for this event but also for the reunion of Spanish War veterans. The line of march was along West State street and south on Main street. Hundreds and thousands of flags were stretched along these streets and with the background of Jacksonville's mammoth elms forming a green canopy over all, it was indeed a great picture.

The blare of trumpets, the din of drums and the sound of thousands of marching feet added to the impressiveness of the event. It is no small undertaking to prepare for and direct such a parade and it is not out of place to say that a large part of the honor for the success of this event belongs to Col. O. C. Smith. Thru his interest the Spanish War veterans were invited to hold their reunion in Jacksonville, and further thru his activity the parade plans were made. It is noteworthy too that the preparations were so thoro that the big parade moved exactly on time and in the intended order. Arrived at Jacksonville State hospital grounds the scene was the more impressive. The hospital grounds really comprise a beautiful park and the vast area about the vocational hospital which the state of Illinois has erected there for veterans needing its care was filled with thousands of people.

There E. L. Hill, managing officer with the co-operation of competent committees of Jacksonville men and women, had made ample preparations for the program of the day. The parade disbanded on the hospital grounds and there the program as planned in connection with the dedicatory exercises was carried out. In such a huge parade it is not possible to mention individually all who contributed to its success, and in naming some of the individuals, organizations and floats which had place in the parade there are no doubt omissions.

Parade Details
A platoon of police was at the head and came the grand marshal with the following: Grand Marshal—O. C. Smith. Aides, mounted—Frank Imhoff, J. L. Henry, M. Ator. Auto aide—Stanley Wright. Motorcycle aides—Howard Reynolds, W. A. Westrope. Bugler—J. Parker. Orderly—William Blue.

Numerous floats and decorated cars were in line, and local business men, lodges and other organizations outdid themselves in providing attractive floats. Those furnished by the Spanish War Veterans were among the most striking ever shown here, especially the one representing the Battleship Maine. Patriotic organizations of Bluffs contributed a handsome float, representing the union of the veterans of the three wars, the Civil, Spanish and World conflicts.

Among interesting floats from this city were the following: Illinois Telephone Co.—This was constructed to represent the work on a switchboard. One was built in the middle of the truck and surrounded with desk phones. Small telephone poles at each end of the float were wired to the switch board. At least a dozen local telephone operators occupied the float, each of whom was provided with some sort of noise making device. The decorating of the truck was supervised by the local manager, W. W. Holliday. The operators were: Misses Anna Clayton, Irene Goodall, Elvah Stone, Sara Krotty, Myrtle Mayberry, Anna O'Connell, Betty Herron, Esther McCarty, Miss O'Connell, Mary Early, Florence Barber, Esther Shepherd and Gladys Hamilton. Ideal Baking Co.—This firm had three trucks in the parade and each carried a supply of bread which was thrown to the crowds along the route. The main truck was attractively decorated and carried the slogan, "Ideal Bread has made good because it is made good." The float was prepared by the manager of the concern, D. H. McBride.

Coco-Cola Bottling Works.—This company also had three trucks in the parade. These were decorated with patriotic pictures, and each represented a slogan of the company. The trucks were decorated under the personal supervision of the manager, Thomas M. Coyle.

Joy Brothers Garage was represented in the parade by their big battleship grey, service car, handsomely decorated with colored garlands of paper. In the back of the truck were four children, while in the cab rode Chester Joy and M. Self.

The Jacksonville Automotive Dealers' Association entered a beautiful car decorated in red, white and blue, with the association's colors, blue and gold, showing here and there. On the car was Betsy Ross in the act of making the first stars and stripes, impersonated by Mrs. George Fuhr. Mr. Fuhr drove the machine. The decoration of the car was in charge of Mrs. Oran Cook. O'Donnell Motor Company was handsomely represented by a big Paige car, every inch covered with snowy white paper and with little pom-poms of color showing on the wheels and in other advantageous places. The car was driven by L. F. O'Donnell and carried eight young girls; Frances and Lucile O'Donnell, Beata Armstrong, Rhoda Olds, Margaret Henry, Lucie Strandberg and Frances and Anita Schumm.

Edon Hardin Walworth society, Children of the American Revolution, was represented in the parade by a car filled with children carrying some of the historic banners of the country that were exhibited at the D. A. R. Flag Day reception last night.

Jacksonville Rebekah Lodge No. 13 had a float representing Queen Esther before the king. It was tastefully decorated in purple and white. Those on the float were: Queen, Miss Amelia Carlson; King, A. M. Robinson; Ladies in Waiting, Esther Carlson, Minnie Scott, Verna Butcher, Marian UpdeGrass; Messenger, Ruby Cowgur; Flower Girls, Marguerite and Dorothy Dean Hall; Guards, Byron and Leon Stewart; Footmen, Arthur UpdeGrass, Elliott Craft, Victor Woods and Eliot Gruber. Those in charge of preparing the float were: David Shadio, Fern Haigh, Verna Butcher, Minnie Scott, Ina Montgomery, A. M. Robinson, Walter Brown, Ollie Brown, Mary Davis, Mary Olds, Lillian Robinson.

The float of Caritas Lodge No. 625 Rebekahs represented Rebecca at the well. It was beautifully trimmed in pink and green. Those having places on the float were: Myrtle W. Tandy, Lynia Crabtree, Ethel Henderson, Edith Mulligan, Eula Miller, Mittie Godfrey, Charles J. Roberts and William Roberts.

Those who prepared the float were: Lynia Crabtree, Harry Hatches, Emma McGlothlin, Charles J. Roberts, Edna Roberts, Charles Baisley, Della Baisley, Carl Baisley, Lottie Hatches, Myrtle Tandy, W. E. Thomson, Mary Thompson, John McGlothlin, Charles Goodey.

Minutemen Council No. 71 Degree of Pocahontas had float representing an Indian camp. The float was occupied by Martha Harrison, Lou Leurig, Beulah Admire, Hattie Jackson, Clara Wyatt with John W. Hughett as the Chief. The committee that decorated the float was composed of Mame Hughett, Sade Seymour, Florence Quinlan, Lillian Robinson, Mary Eaton.

Minutemen Council No. 97 Degree of Pocahontas had float representing an Indian village. Those on the float were: Fannie Garrison, Lizzie Hayes, Ella Fanning, Della Fanning, Jessie Bambrook, Stella Bolan, Nannie Mills, Eva Sexton, Katie Dowling, Helen Dowling, William Timmerman, Josephine Arisman and Ellen Bambrook. The committee that trimmed the float included Fannie Garrison, Nannie Mills, Della Fanning, Jessie Bambrook and Ella Fanning.

Charles M. Strawn's automobile was beautifully decorated in pink and white colors. A Three Links design was placed above the rear seat and streamers extended from the links to the hood of the car. Mr. Strawn had veterans of '61 as his passengers. The automobile of the Smith Bakery was attractive in the national colors. Mr. Smith was at the wheel and was accompanied by his wife and two employees from the bakery.

The Jacksonville Howitzer Company was under command of Capt. Wesley James and carried its full field equipment. Jacksonville State Hospital, as has been true in other parades in recent years, made a large contribution to the parade. Civil War veterans from the hospital in automobiles made up the first part of this section and then came representatives of the veterans' bureau.

Floats from the hospital represented "Veterans of three wars," the Allies and Victory. The hospital band also had a prominent place in the line.

Members of Matt Starr Post G. A. R. and the Woman's Relief Corps rode in automobiles or in the huge motor buses of the Jacksonville-Springfield Transportation Company. The representation from these two organizations was the largest that has been made for several years.

The spectators were greatly interested in the "Box Car" float of the American Legion. It represented a French box car and was decorated with a variety of placards very familiar to ex-service men who were overseas. Clarence Walsh accompanied this float.

The Forty and Eight band of Bloomington, numbering about forty pieces, was one of the excellent musical organizations in line. It is an acknowledged fact that World War veterans are quite reluctant to take part in parades, but certainly members of the Jacksonville post of the American Legion put their own wishes in the discard yesterday, for the post was finely represented, hundreds of men in khaki and O. D. being in line. Commander Kahl and his associate workers had urged continuously a good representation and had it.

Roodhouse Dokays sent a band and a group of costumed Knights who were grouped with local Dokays and Pythians. The drill team of Ildern temple appeared in splendid new purple and white silk costumes.

One of the most impressive floats in the parade was provided by Spanish American War veterans. It represented the Battleship Maine and huge wreaths were appropriately placed. The simple words "In Memoriam" completed the picture. A large delegation of Spanish War Veterans followed the float, Jacksonville veterans and others here for the meet.

The Peoria Spanish War veterans were accompanied by the Service Men's band from that city, a very competent organization.

The Odd Fellows Orphans Home band from Lincoln appeared in this section and attracted a great deal of attention.

Like a picture from the past was the coach occupied by Miss Irene Smith and Miss Lucille Harber, appropriately costumed as Spanish maidens. The coach was attended by costumed pages.

Passavant hospital float was done in white with a scattering of roses. Miss Ida Venner, superintendent of the hospital, was accompanied by Miss Langley, director of nurses, and a number of nurses from the hospital.

The Springfield Boy Scout drum corps followed with a delegation of Scouts.

Mrs. W. Barr Brown, regent of Rev. James Caldwell Chapter D. A. R. drove a car decorated in national colors and carrying D. A. R. banners. The chapter was well represented by its members. The Service Star Legion banner is always impressive. Mrs. Mary Turner Carriel, who has been active in the Legion work, was one of the representatives of this organization.

The Pythian Home float carried a number of children suggestive of the good work that institution, located in Decatur, is doing for orphans of Pythians.

One of the organizations most largely represented was the Knights of Columbus. The Knights, several hundred in number, followed the Waverly band. The banner of the local council and a number of American flags were carried by this delegation.

The Odd Fellows organizations came next with large representation and the DeSilva Drum Corps at the head of the Boy Scouts. There were a number of representatives of the local Cismaklers union and an especially large delegation of the Carpenters union. The Plumbers union was also well represented.

The colored band, a local organization which gave evidence of its good training, led the contingent of colored veterans and after them came members of the West Side Art club and the Colored Woman's club in automobiles.

The procession was led by mounted marshals, Sylvester Arbuckle, Harvey Brinkman, John Craig, John McDaniel and others. The Lukeman Motor Co. float represented a good impersonation of Abraham Lincoln, attired in the long coat and "stove pipe" hat that are associated with so many pictures of the martyred president. Hewn logs at one side of the float gave the rail splitter suggestion. Hayden Walker impersonated Abraham Lincoln in this float.

The Ayers National Farmers State bank, Farrell State bank and Elliott State bank united in presenting a float, "Remember the Maine," a battleship which was reproduced in white decorated with an edge of pink chrysanthemums. Golden eagles were used very effectively along the sides and the float deserved the word "artistic" which was so freely applied as it passed along the streets.

The float of J. Bart Johnson Music Co. was a mammoth boat and at one side the representation of the well known trade mark of the "Victrola" with the wording "His Master's Voice." The Standard Oil Co. and the Get Gas Co. were represented by decorated gasoline trucks. D. A. Shadio's car had been decorated in white, shaped in such a way as to represent a large shoe.

The Andre & Andre float was a reproduction of an army tank made from rolls of linoleum. The effect of an armored tank was heightened by the frequent "boom" boom" as someone located on the inside used firearms. The Elks lodge was represented by a group of mounted men, one carrying a large banner.

The Faugust Co. had two cars in line, one giving some prominence to Nash cars and the other to the special line of business that the firm handles.

The Salvation Army had two trucks, loaded with soldiers of that organization, some of them with the regulation musical instruments.

J. W. Larson & Co., Koepfing Bakery Co., Young's garage and Schoedsack's were other firms represented by well decorated cars.

The Ford section included a large number of decorated Fords of all description and there was strong competition from the Chevrolets. German Bros. had Hubmobiles, S. W. Babb Dodges, the Berger Motor Co. Overland Redbirds and Goveia & Moxon Cadillacs. There were still other automobile makes represented.

One could not but think as the parade passed with its hundreds of cars, how strangely a parade of 20 years ago would have contrasted with it.

PARADE OF SNAIK IS WEIRD SPECTACLE

Members of Order of the Serpent March Thru Streets, Led by Giant Reptile Mounted on Truck—Initiate Victims in Mysterious Ceremonies.

One of the wildest demonstrations which has been seen in Jacksonville for some time was that of the Filipino Snaik, or Order of the Serpent, held last evening. The Snaik came up town and took the business section. They snake danced in the midst of heavy traffic, flourished wicked looking knives, rattled tin cans, and made noises of a wild and weird quality.

The Snaik delegation was accompanied by a drum corps, assisted by bugles. At the head of the parade was a mysterious character in a costume of the Philippines and carrying a long machete, or something of the sort. Next came the most striking feature of the procession, a giant serpent mounted on a truck. Seated on the snake and in the truck were a number of unidentified persons, who from time to time gave forth sounds not unlike the war whoop of Indians or the cry of cannibals about to devour their victims.

The strange procession snake danced around the square twice. At the rear of the serpent truck trailed a number of tin cans, which the marchers rattled vigorously whenever they wished to express their emotions.

Following the parade, it is understood that a most fearsome and impressive initiation of victims took place "somewhere in Morgan county." Two degrees were conferred, or rather thrust upon the candidates, who will not need a repetition of the Reconciliation to remind them not to forget the awful rites. None but those who have visited the Philippine Islands and seen the natives in their peculiar ceremonies can understand the mysteries of the Snaik. If the mysteries of anything like the revelations of the parade of last night, the victims have the sympathies of the spectators.
